Labor Day Demonstration By Richmond Workingmen

Only City on Shores of San Francisco Bay That Observed Holiday by Parade, and the Showing Made Was Complimented by All.

To those who look upon organized labor and Labor Day demonstrations as a menace to the peace and welfare of a community, the object lesson on Macdonald avenue last Monday must have been convincing of their utter ignorance and narrow conception of what the organization of working men and women stands for in the present day struggle for an existence.

While the men in line of march did not represent one-third of the union men of Richmond, the fine appearance of those in line made up in a measure for numbers. It is true, that Labor Day parades have a "sameness of appearance," and that many cities are eliminating demonstrations of this kind on account of the long and weary drill over miles of pavement, yet there can be no more impressive manner of convincing the public of labor's supreme power and its superiority over the old civilization where under the lash the laborer was nothing more than a slave. The physical and economic solidarity of labor has advanced the new civilization, which is rapidly emancipating the worker and at no distant day labor will come into its own by receiving its just reward, an equitable share of that which it produces.

Richmond is proud of its workingmen; of their civic pride; of their efforts to make this a model manufacturing beehive to which men from all points of the compass may point with pride and say: "The town that pays a fair wage for a fair day's labor."

Meetings were held at first in a large tent and were continued until the tent was blown down in a storm in October, 1902. Soon after this a small building was erected on lots situated at Bissell avenue, between Fourth and Fifth streets.

In May, 1911, the building was moved to 12th and Bissell, the present location.

The pastors in charge have been Mr. John W. Berger, a student who supplied the pulpit for a short time, Rev James S. McDonald, Rev. John W. Quay, who was installed on October 7, 1904, and Rev. Wm. MacLeod.

She will no doubt enroll more than her usual quota of musical students this fall and winter.

Artesian Water Found in Albany

Indications of Oil Cause Property Owners to Forget Naval Base For Time Being.

Special to The Richmond Terminal.

ALBANY, Cal., Sept. 5.—An Albany resident has a well of pure, soft artesian water that has necessitated capping on account of the pressure. A fine quality of oil is also in evidence that proves conclusively what the experts contend, that there is a subterranean lake of oil beneath the territory including Richmond, Albany and the bay contiguous thereto.

RUST, Cal., Sept. 5.—The body of Fred Schwakia was found in the bay last night near Point Isabella by a searching party. Schwakia had gone fishing Wednesday and failed to put in an appearance. Besides these, there are a large number signed up for correspondent courses, a feature that gives those at home a chance in economics, political science, philosophy and engineering.

Trains Crash in Fog and Passengers Meet Death

New Haven, Conn.—Seventeen persons were killed and nearly 50 injured, some of whom may die, in a rear-end collision Tuesday morning on the New Haven and Hartford Railroad, six miles north of here.

The first section of the White Mountain Express bound for New York speeding along at probably 40 miles an hour in a thick fog, rushed by a danger signal, it is said, and crashed into the rear of the second section of the Bar Harbor Express standing 700 feet beyond the block signal.

The White Mountain engine cleaved through the two rear Pullman cars, both of wood, splitting them in two and tossing their wreckage and three score of mangled human beings, some alive, some dead, on either side of the track.

The third car also of wood, and occupied by 40 boys on their way from a summer camp at Monmouth, Maine, was lifted into the air and almost completely off the track. The car fell on its side, crumpled up, crushed two of the boys to death and injured several others. Some of the victims of the two rear Pullmans were hurled from their berths over a fence paralleling the track, 50 feet distant, and mattresses, bedding and clothing were found in the telegraph wires.

Widows of Many States Ask Pensions of Seattle

Seattle—Since Superior Judge A. W. Frater announced that the operation of the recently enacted mothers' pension law would cost King county $56,000 during the coming year, widows from all parts of the United States have written to J. A. Sigurdson, investigator in charge of the county's pension bureau, asking that they be placed on the pension roll.

Mr. Sigurdson received a letter from a widow in Florida, who wrote that her husband had died in Kentucky and that she was in want and would like to receive a pension from this county. Another widow, 38 years old, living in Nebraska, wrote that she supports herself and two children by driving a milk wagon, and asked the pension bureau to send her a blank application for a pension. An Ohio widow asked for a pension of $40 a month, and a woman in Pennsylvania applied for aid because her savings had been depleted by doctors' bills.

Mr. Sigurdson is sending courteous letters to the applicants, informing them that only bona fide residents of King county, who have lived in Washington at least a year, are entitled to aid under the mothers' pension law.

Husky Suffragists Drag Asquith Over Golf Links

Elgin, Scotland—The British prime minister was the object of an attack in which his chivalry restrained him from adequately defending himself. While he was golfing on the Lossiemouth links, two stalwart suffragettes, who had quietly come up to the green, sprang at him suddenly. They knocked off his hat, grabbed him by the clothing and dragged him some distance over the ground.

The prime minister bore his rough treatment complacently and refrained from using force to make them desist while they imparted to him their opinion that he was a scoundrel and a past master in the arts of Ananias.

Miss Asquith, who was a little distance off when the suffragettes pounced on her father, ran to his assistance and proceeded to apply militant methods to the militants. The battle waged only for a few moments, when two detectives rushed up and with difficulty released Asquith from the clutches of the suffragettes.

At the station the women refused to give their names or addresses. Asquith resumed play and was loudly cheered when he reached the last green.

Churches Plan Initiative Campaign Against Boxing

Los Angeles—A committee representing the Los Angeles Church Federation formulated plans for active work in the projected initiative campaign against prize-fighting in California.

Members of the committee agreed upon the circulation of an initiative petition for a special election to decide the prize-fight question. The anti-boxing bill as proposed by the committee is said to be more drastic than the Brown bill, which was killed in the state senate several months ago. That would bar admission fees to contests, would limit the number of rounds to four and would prohibit the use of gloves weighing less than eight ounces.

Los Angeles—The movement in progress in southern California to kill boxing in this state was given official sanction by city and county in resolutions of the County Board of Supervisors and City Council, condemning the sport as it has been conducted by professional athletic clubs.

S. P. is Building Largest Ferry Boat in the World

San Francisco—What will be the largest ferry boat in the world is now in progress of construction in the Southern Pacific Company's shipyard in Oakland. The boat, to be named the Contra Costa, is to carry main line trains across Carquinez straits, between Port Costa and Benicia. Her cost will be about $450,000.

There will be four tracks 420 feet long, running the length of the vessel, which will have a capacity of 36 freight cars and two engines, or 24 passenger cars and two engines.

General dimensions are 433 feet 4 inches, length over guards; 420 feet, length over transom; 66 feet 6 inches, beam molded; 19 feet 9 inches, depth amidships.

A safety feature consists in 14 bulkheads.

Two million board feet of lumber will be used in the construction, 30 tons of spikes, 76 tons of round iron, 16,000 treenails.

Fans and Ice Keep Life in Black Scale Parasites

Sacramento—Electric fans and ice cakes were pressed into service at the California State Insectary to save the lives of 100 calcide flies, "black scale" parasites, recently imported from the West Indids. The heat has been killing the precious insects at an alarming rate, and Superintendent Vosler conceived the idea of lowering the temperature in the room where the flies were being allowed to breed. The success of the experiment was noticeable almost immediately, for the insects became active under the cooler air breeze forced into the room over ice.

The calcide flies are said to be the only insect parasites of the grown "black scale." If they can be utilized successfully in California it will mean an annual saving of thousands of dollars to citrus fruit growers.

The flies were sent to California by the imperial director of agriculture of the West Indian Government.

Typhoon Destroys Life and Property in Japan

Oil Gusher at Coalinga Throws Stream 100 Feet

Los Angeles—The biggest oil gusher ever found in the Coalinga fields is reported by the Traders' Oil Company.

The gusher was found on what is known as the water property of the oil company, about five miles west of Coalinga.

The vein of oil has been throwing oil 100 feet above the opening of the well and making a noise that can be heard for miles around. No attempt has been made to collect the oil and it is running to waste. A movement is being made to pipe the oil into the city of Coalinga for use there.

HOLLAND PLANS FINE EXHIBITION

Government of the Netherlands Fully Awake to Importance of 1915 Fair

Construction of Building to Commence at Once—$300,000 Has Been Appropriated

San Francisco—"The government of the Netherlands and its people are fully awake to the tremendous importance of the 1915 Exposition, and Holland is coming to the front with a will," declared H. A. van Coenen Torchiana, commissioner of the Netherlands to the exposition, who has returned from Holland, which he visited at the request of the Dutch government.

"The mother country and its colonies have already appropriated $300,000 for exposition purposes. The plans for an official building were drawn by Architect Kromhout of Rotterdam, Holland, who built the Netherlands pavilion at Brussels.

"Within a few days the local architects will be selected to take charge of the building and the work will proceed without delay.

"The Netherlands will have several men-of-war in the harbor during the exposition, and an official military guard from the warships will be stationed at the Holland building.

"Holland and its shipping interests will also show its profound confidence in this port in several other ways, which at the present time I am not at liberty to disclose.

"Regardless of what the other governments of Europe may do, Holland, its government and its people, are with you, heart and soul, and even if other European countries would not officially participate this will in no way affect the judgment of the Netherlands."

Credits Urged for Outside Activities of Scholars

Sacramento—Caring for baby, milking the cow, and helping father and mother at home may be worth credits in all California schools if State Superintendent Hyatt can get counties of the state to adopt the policy which was recently inaugurated in San Diego schools.

"The giving of credits in the elementary schools for outside activities takes away the bookishness of school work and promotes opportunity for children who do not learn readily from books," says Hyatt. "Besides it encourages work at home, where the aid of children quite frequently is needed."

Under the system which San Diego has adopted and which Superintendent Hyatt particularly indorses, "outside activities" are given 160 credits annually, just as much as geography, arithmetic, grammar, history and spelling.

Governor Names "Laymen" for Board of Education

Clark, editor of the Riverside Press; Mrs. O. Shephard Barnum, Los Angeles, and Charles Frank Stern, a blsines man of Eureka.

Hay Fever Victims Hold Their Annual Convention

Bethlehem, N. H.—The United States Hay Fever Association held its annual convention here last week, with delegates from many eastern cities present to exchange reports of their sneezing affliction. The oldest sneezer present was Major Richard Muckle of Philadelphia, whose eighty-eighth birthday was celebrated by a dinner given in his honor by 25 officers of the Hay Fever Association. Major Muckle has been a sufferer from hay fever for 75 years and was for seven years president of the association, whose fortieth anniversary was marked by the convention.

Congressman Curry Wants Intelligible Telegrams

Washington—Representative Curry's plan to force telegraph companies to divide messages into sentences has been taken up by the Interstate Commerce Commission, which will request companies to punctuate sentences with periods. If the companies do so this will end Curry's campaign for intelligible messages. If they do not accept the suggestion of the commission, Curry will then introduce a bill requiring them by law to punctuate messages.

Rock Paintings in Tunis.

Rock paintings of an interesting kind in the south region of Tunis are described by M. Henri Roux and published in the Revue Tunisienne. One of these was noticed on a rock wall in the Djehel Bliji, which probably represents a combat of men in conventional drawing and animals which it is difficult to identify. The age of this painting raises quite a controversy among scientists, and some think that it is contemporary with the Berber civilization, that is, intermediate between the stone age and the age of metals. According to this idea it belongs in the last part of the neolithic period. But M. Roux wishes to place it at a more ancient epoch and class it in the middle or first part of the neolithic period, it being due to a civilization which is more ancient than the Berbers, and M. Gobert also thinks that it is the work of negroid people to whom are due the flints of the neolithic age found in North Africa.

Striking Story.

F. Irving Fletcher, at a Sphinx club dinner in New York, told a striking advertising story.

"I once made a bet with a dry goods dealer," said Mr. Fletcher, "that he couldn't spend in a year on advertising all he made in that year. The man took me up and sailed in.

"But he lost his bet. Though his advertising bill grew bigger and bigger, he lost. For the more he advertised the more he sold, and in the end, after starting eight branch stores, he gave in and paid me my money."

Mr. Fletcher paused, then added impressively:

"Any dealer, dry goods or otherwise, who doesn't believe this story, need only to try it himself to be convinced."

Made His Speech Too Long.

Little Herbert, aged five, was invited to a party, and before leaving home he was cautioned to be sure to say "Thank you" to the hostess and tell her he had a nice time. On leaving he said to the hostess: "Thank you very much. I had a nice time, and your supper was good enough."

Cleans Blood Through Kidneys

A Most Important Function and One to be Carefully Guarded.

The purpose of the kidneys being to filter the blood the question of treating supposed kidney weakness should be considered carefully. Instead of drugs and alleged kidney stimulants the better plan is to purify the blood with an antidotal effect such as you get from S. S. S.

It should be remembered that the kidneys are made up of a fine net work of blood vessels, and it is to stimulate the functional activity of kidney tissue through this capillary net work that S. S. S. shows one of its most remarkable effects.

The medicinal value of the components of S. S. S. are relatively just as vital to healthy kidney action as the nutriment obtained from grain, meat, fats, sugars, or any other part of our daily food is to the natural reconstructive requirements of the tissues. And there is one component of S. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating the cellular tissues of the kidneys to a healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. Thus, in cases of rheumatism, cystitis, chronic sore throat, huskiness of voice, bronchitis, asthma, and the myriad of other reflex indications of weak kidney action, first purify your blood with S. S. S. so it will enable the tissues to rebuild their cellular strength and regain their normal health.

You can get S. S. S. at any drug store, but take no other so-called blood purifier.

S. S. S. is purely a botanical product, and you will make a great mistake to have some enthusiast palm off a mercury, arsenic or iodide of potash preparation that may do you irreparable harm.

S. S. S. is prepared by The Swift Specific Co., 160 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and if you have any deep-seated or obstinate blood trouble write to their Medical Department for free advice. It will be worth your while to do so.

BESTOW PRAISE NOW

Nothing Gained by the Putting Off of Timely Word.

Greatest as Well as Lowliest of Mankind Welcome the Spoken or Written Phrase That Shows Enthusiastic Appreciation.

How often after a play, a sermon, a concert that has stirred us we feel the impulse to make known to actor, preacher or musician what it has meant to us! Yet how often the impulse perishes as the warm glow of the instant's inspiration wanes—like a rill of water that runs aimlessly to waste in desert sands and is lost.

It is so easy to let the world of enthusiastic appreciation remain unspoken—perhaps by a trivial accident, such as the absence of pen and ink to serve our inclination. But had we written, had we said the word, it might have been just the lift that was needed toward the light and the air and life itself for a soul that struggled.

We think the eminent men and women so strongly poised, so independently secure, so braced and fortified that they need no limping phrase of ours to bring them succor; but it is not so. Just because most people do not think—or else think and then forget—the one who gives generous rein to the feeling aroused, in the presence of the one who has aroused it, is a comfort and a reinforcement more than is realized except by the tired, grateful heart that is comforted.

"Encouragement" literally means putting a heart in a person. That is what the timely letter or spoken words may do.

A young man whom fate laid by the heels and compelled to take a protracted rest-cure was frankly discouraged. The busy life that eddied and seethed about him seemed to have no use, no place for him. The future was as black as the bottom of a well. He cried out against the destiny that—at the golden culmination of promise—seemed to have relegated him among the failures and the unfit.

Then there came a friendly, human, sympathizing letter. It was from an old man, a good man, a man of experience, fit to be an apostle and a philosopher. It reminded him of the fine saying of Henry Vaughan, "I climb when I lie down," and bade him to be the stronger, like Antaeus, for the contact with the earth. It concluded with the prayer that all his dreams with patience and waiting might come true. It gave him strength and the will to proceed, and comforted the chafing, rebellious spirit. He recovered and went back to his work again after the complete restoration to health and happiness.

Any one may leave unsaid the timely word. Blessed is that man or woman who says it.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Knew What He Wanted.

A roughly dressed man went into a drug store and presented a doctor's prescription to the clerk. This paper called for ten grains of quinine, but when the druggist proceeded to do up the prescribed amount his customer objected.

"Here, I want you to put that quinine on this prescription," he said; "and I want a lot more'n what you've weighed out, too!"

"But your prescription calls for only ten grains," exclaimed the clerk.

"Never you mind; you dump all the quinine you can get on the paper the doc gave me. I know what he said I told him I wanted some quinine for a cold, and he says, 'You take this paper right over to the druggist and get it filled!'"

McKinley's Stolen Stein.

The abstemious habits of President McKinley led to an amusing incident during the visit of Prince Henry of Prussia to America.

Desiring to honor the prince with a beer fest, and finding the White House cellars lacking the necessary equipment, the president ordered ten dozen steins from a local saloon. When Prince Henry "took the first observation" through one of these steins he found engraved on the bottom the words: "Stolen from Ernst Gerstenberg."

Stein collecting patrons had laid the saloonkeeper under such heavy tribute that he had been forced to adopt this method of protecting his property.

Taken at His Word.

"Silk" O'Loughlin, the illustrious originator of "Strike Tuh," is not slow in his retorts to players who object to his decisions.

Hal Chase was at bat, and failed to offer at a pitch in front of his eyes and which O'Loughlin called a strike.

"What's the matter? That was over my head," said Chase.

No reply from "Silk."

The next ball pitched came speeding in a foot over Chase's head.

"Right in the same place," said Hal, smiling.

"Oh, was it? Well, then, that makes two strikes."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Nature's Benign Way.

"Ah," remarked Professor Lickcipher, in a voice admirably adapted for uttering didacticisms, "how well nature has equipped her offsprings for occupancy of the spheres in which she has placed them!"

"Yape!" agreed the Old Codger. "For instance, behold the hornet! His terminal facilities are not extensive, but they are in every way ample for the purpose."—Judge.

Whaling at Natal.

The whaler Egeland the other morning brought in the first humpback whale captured in Natal this season. It was a good whale and very fat. On a second visit to the ocean the same whaler captured a blue whale 70 feet long, which landed in the evening. Apparently the baleen whales are early this year.—Natal Mercury.

Faculty for Managing.

Anyone who has to manage men or things must be able quickly to bring order out of confusion. Test your friend's talent in this respect by writing on your paper five words of a special class, such as the names of five flowers, or of five animals, or of five famous poets, with the first letter always in the right place, while the order of the other letters is changed. The person on whom you are experimenting knows only to which class the words belong—whether they are the names of animals, or of flowers, or of poets. See how long it takes him to write the five correct words in place of the misspelled ones. The animal card may read, "Tetrul, etalenph, dykeno, serdip, galliro," and the vegetable card, "Veloti, diloffad, melap, moroshumu, cuttnesh." Some persons will be able to read at once: "Turtle, elephant, donkey, spider, gorilla," and the other card, "Violet, daffodil, maple, mushroom, chestnut." Others who have no talent for rearranging the elements of a confused situation will stare at the words, unable to make any sense of them.—Youth's Companion.

How Queen Rules King Emmanuel.

The queen of Italy, discussing smoking with Queen Mary of Great Britain, remarked vivaciously: "I can overlook many faults in a man, and make many allowances for his shortcomings.

"One fault in a man, however, I can never forgive, and that is—his not smoking. Whenever King Emmanuel seems annoyed I give him his pipe; when he is good-tempered I get him a cigarette; when I want him to do something very particular I offer him a cigar.

"With a pipe I can console him; with a cigarette I can delight him; but with a cigar I can lead him anyhow and anywhere."

After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I improved rapidly and today am a well woman. I cannot tell you how happy I feel and I cannot say too much for your Compound. Would not be without it in the house if it cost three times the amount."—Mrs. Chas. Chapman, R. F. D. No. 7, Bellevue, Ohio.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has remedied many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and it may be exactly what you need.

Richmond's Industries — Number of Men Employed.

In answer to numerous inquiries as to the number of manufactories and the number of men employed, The Terminal herewith publishes a list for the benefit of its readers and those who may be interested in Richmond's development. Richmond has 34 manufactories, 8 of which employ (March 1, 1913) 4365 men, classified as follows:

	No. of Men Employed
Standard Oil Co.	2400
Pullman Shops	750
Santa Fe Shops	600
Western Pipe Works	175
California Wine Association	165
San Francisco Quarries	100
Pacific Porcelain Works	100
Pacific Sanitary Mfg. Co.	75
Total	4365

Besides the above there are 26 smaller manufacturing industries in Richmond such as brick works, cap and match factories, etc., employing 850 men and women. These figures are conservative and not given for advertising purposes. They are taken from statistics gathered by the Western States Gas & Electric Co., by request of their main headquarters at Chicago.

The assessed valuation of Richmond property is $12,333,352.10. Bonded indebtedness, $300,000, for harbor improvements. Number of building permits for 1912 were 902, value $800,000.

TO ADVERTISERS.

There are employed in Richmond 3000 organized workers. This newspaper was the only organ in Richmond that supported union labor in its fight against the open shop on Tuesday, Angust 19. The Terminal in consequence will continue to prosper and grow, for the workingman is a consumer as well as a producer and distributor of his earnings. He naturally will patronize the paper that stands by him in his struggle for better conditions. The Terminal is the workingman's friend, and its advertisers will surely reap the benefits of publicity placed in its columns. The Terminal is the oldest newspaper in Richmond, was the first to carry the allied printing trades label at its masthead. Merchants heed no instructions in placing their publicity where it will be effective.

County Treasurer Baker has in the vaults $251,039.62 of the county's coin.

There should be a "picketing ordinance" against rabied dogs. This would carry with a whoop.

The water commission is interviewing the railroad commission for "hoyle on jurisdiction."

A "knocker," as defined by some get-rich quicks, is the fellow who insists on telling the truth.

When a man in public life becomes unpopular, he takes a vacation. Now, this does not apply to Richmond.

There is a little too much "gumshoeing" in politics in Richmond. Gumshoes often cause more "noise" than hobnails.

Municipal street railways for Oakland sounds good. If they are good for San Francisco, they should be good for Oakland.

It is said the city water of Sacramento is so bad that it kills the fish. The city water of Richmond is so—"ah, what's the use?"

Profuse "thanks" to citizens for patronage is not always the most effective advertising "dope," especially when one is "moving out of town."

The Hetch Hetchy source of water supply is the "candy" for Richmond. Abolish the water commission and let the city council confer direct with Secretary of Interior Lane.

The captains of finance, men of broad views, recognize the forwa,d movement of the times all over the world and are arranging their business methods to harmonize with modern prog.ess. The person who attempts to oppose the spirit of the age is up against a stone wall.

Richmond Sequoia Commercial Club has endorsed the municipal plan of conducting street railways and favors the bay cities' plan as adopted by San Francisco and now being considered by Berkeley and Oakland. Richmond is not behind the times.

Wireless telephones are being installed by the Pennsylvania railroad. Preliminary tests have been made, and even freight trains are to be equipped with the service, the conductor in the caboose being able to talk to the engineer. It is said the new arrangement will lessen the number of brakemen.

Ballots continue to be printed that are confusing to the voter of more than average intelligence. The ballots used in the recent city election were an example. The "for" and "against" could easily be misconstrued. Many voted for the ordinance whose intent was to vote against it.

The school teacher, the world's most useful worker, is poorly paid. The teacher's labor is never recognized at its full value. The teacher's glory is is the future achievements of the human race—a glory that comes when the teachers are dead. How many parents honor the public school teacher, creator of the civilization of the future?

After four months work and the expenditure of $10,000, the residents of San Mateo, Hillsborough and Burlingame, have successfully rid the community of the mosquito pest which proved so annoying last summer. The work included the reclamation of 700 acres of marsh lands and oiling all the standing water within an area of 25 square miles. Nine thousand gallons of oil were used in the work.

RICHMOND POSTOFFICE.

It would appear that Postmaster Sam Jenkins being a republican appointed by a republican president he would be permitted to serve out the term of his appointment, having given such efficient service in organization of all departments of the Richmond postoffice, but Mr. Petillon, a popular citizen and democrat, is the logical man to be appointed by President Wilson.

According to the tenets advanced by the evening democratic organ in a recent article, President Wilson may not appoint Clark men, and in that event Postmaster Jenkins may be retained. While Mr. Petillon was for Champ Clark at the beginning, he was a staunch supporter of Woodrow Wilson's candidacy through the turbulent campaign. The Terminal says this for the edification of the local democratic organ.

PITTSBURGH'S LAND TAX.

The London board of trade's careful investigation showed that workingmen's rents in Pittsburgh were among the highest in the United States, ranging much above Chicago and Philadelphia, for example. Average land values there are only a little less than in New York. But up to two years ago considerable vacant property in Pittsburgh was obligingly classified as "agricultural lands," and taxed only about half the rate for land that had been put to use by erecting buildings on it This legislative inducement to hold vacant lands for speculation while the working population was crowded into congested and very costly quarters was wiped out in 1911. This year Pittsburgh has gone that improvement one better by making the tax rate on land double the rate on buildings—the readjustment to be applied gradually. Vacant land, of course, brings the owner no revenue; but his taxes will be twice what he would have to pay on the same valuation embodied in a revenue - producing building. Hence there will be an inducement to bring all the land in the city into use by putting improvements on it. That should have the effect of preventing a continuous rise in rents. The same expedient should be adopted in every city.—Pittsburgh Post.

METHODISTS IN RIGHT.

At the Toronto Methodist Conference on June 16th, the following resolution was moved by W. A. Douglas, B. A., and unanimously carried:

"Whereas there is an infinite difference between the use of the use of the land for the multiplication of crops, building and other products, and use of the land by speculators, not to add anything to the welfare of mankind, but to secure a share of the wealth produced by the industry of their neighbors, therefore be it resolved that this conference strongly recommends that the Assessment Act be so amended as to encourage the use of the land for beneficent production, and remove the temptation to speculation."

The drawing room of the Union high school on 23d street was burglarized the first of the week and several sets of drawing instruments and tennis rackets, which had been stored away, were taken. Yale locks were pried off the lockers, and considerable damage done. Detectives are working on the case. It is thought to be the work of amateurs.

LABOR DAY NOTES.

Peddrazzinni, the midget teamster, carried the largest banner.

† †

The dancing floor at Lafayette park is the best around the bay.

† †

P. H. McCarthy was president of the day at Shellmound for the San Francisco unions.

† †

New York City celebrated Labor Day with 25,000 men in the line of march on Fifth avenue.

† †

J. Stitt Wilson delivered the Labor Day address at Piedmont to 25,000 persons in attendance.

† †

The Labor Day dancers enjoyed the amusement, as the day was cool and pleasant for lovers of the pastime.

† †

The music was excellent and the management of Richmond's Labor Day celebration was highly complimented by all.

† †

The bartenders made a neat appearance in their immaculate white suits and hats. The butchers also added class to the parade.

† †

For the first time in 35 years, President of National Federation of Labor Gompers was unable to make a Labor Day speech. He is ill at Atlantic City, N. J.

† †

The races at Lafayette Park Labor Day were highly enjoyed. The fat man's race was finished by a "spill" of a jumbo speed boy who stubbed his toe.

† †

Three thousand union men of Santa Clara county paraded in San Jose on Labor Day, making the most impressive showing ever witnessed in the Garden City.

† †

The conduct of the crowd at Lafayette Park could not have been better. There were no disorderly persons on the ground and the day was spent without the slightest disturbance.

† †

All the trades represented in the parade made a good showing—boilermakers, steamfitters, machinists, cement workers, teamsters, lathers, butchers, barbers, laborers, plumbers, bartenders and clerks.

† †

The parade, considering that not one half the unions were represented was one of the best ever given in Richmond. There were many complimentary remarks, even from those who do not affiliate with trade unions.

† †

The carpenters made up in numbers what they lacked in special uniforms. They are the men behind—sturdy, level headed and "always there" at the "critical moment." There is nothing on the carpenters in the bay cities.
